History

Bodegas San Huberto is a wine company owned 100% by Grupo Spadone, a well-known family business group with more than 70 years of commercial history in Argentina, in the fields of show-business, media, logistics, livestock, agriculture and tourism.

We start our wine business in 1998 when we bought two properties in two of the best Argentine terroirs: AmingaValley, La Rioja and Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza.

With a strong vision for business and contemplating consumption trends worldwide, Bodegas San Huberto installed its third winery in Huailai, China; thus becoming one of the first in Argentina to take the big step towards the wine production future.

In all our properties we have vineyards and wineries to create wines of excellent quality with our own grapes.

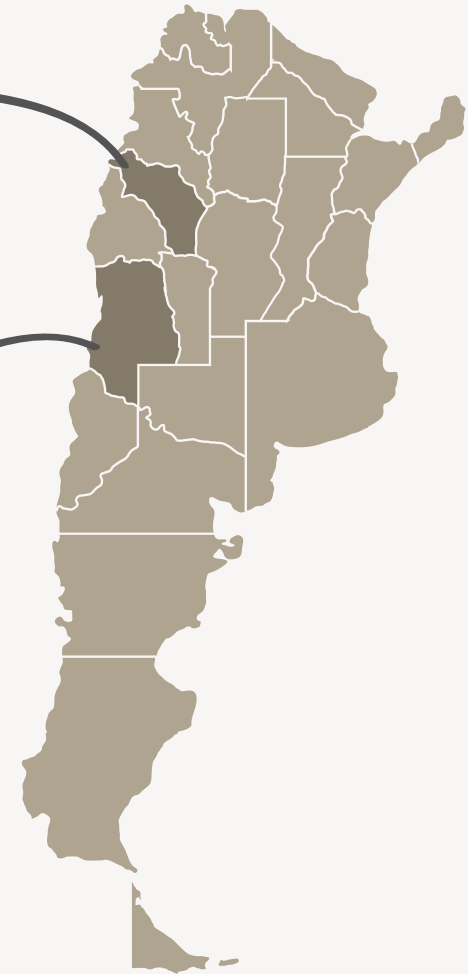

Terroir- Driven

Devoted to the production of wines with a sense of place, San Huberto Wineries owns vineyards in two important sites located in viticulture areas par excellence which allow to produce natural wines in total harmony with nature.

La Rioja - Aminga Valley

Property in La Rioja

The vineyards are located in the valley of Aminga, at the foot of Mount “El Velazco” in the middle of the northern dessert, in the province of La Rioja.

Naturally, this terroir with its high altitude, sandy and deep soils, scarce rains, hot summers and very cold winters, has privileged conditions for the creation of high-end and almost organic wines with deep colors and soft tannins.

GRAN NINA

Nina is the winery's flagship high-end brand

Tribute to GIOVANINA, mother of founder Carlos Spadone, an Italian woman who arrived in Argentina at the beginning of the 20th century. She has been a model of hardwork, honesty and perseverance.

Born in 2002, it was the first production of Petit Verdot in Argentina, quickly achieving international recognition. NINA was conceived with extreme care in the vineyard to let the terroir talk, working with low productions in order to obtain supreme qualities and great concentration.

NINA NATURAL

The NINA NATURAL line is the result of the committed work of our winemaking team, which since May 2018 has implemented sustainability protocols to develop a sustainable viticulture. The result is a young and fresh wine with a natural, pure and balanced style.

In the vineyard, all the tasks are done by hand. Irrigation is drip. Certified organic products are used for fertilization and phytosanitary treatments. The harvest is manual in boxes.

In the winery, we have a fair use of technology. Only certified organic winemaking supplies and safe equipment are used. The wine is fermented with indigenous yeasts.

Composed of 3 blends —1 red, 1 white, and 1 rosé— created with exclusive grapes from our vineyards in the Aminga Valley, a desert ecosystem with excellent ecological conditions in La Rioja, Argentina.
